

LOUISVILLE:

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1868.

A Winter Campaign and Our Indian Policy.

Our readers will not fail to remember the noise made last year in regard to the Indian peace commission, and the wonders of pacification it was accomplishing. The commission itself was gotten up with a reckless prodigality of military and civil rank. It had at its head a Lieutenant General, and for members, no end of Majors and Brigadier Generals; besides a Senator of the United States and other civil dignitaries, sent to its operations, and to impress the gentle world with a due respect for the commission, a large escort of cavalry was furnished them, and that the public might be correctly informed of what took place, and what Messrs. Buffalo Hump, Yellow Dog and Bull Tail might favor the world with, short-hand reporters accompanied the commission, by the aid of whose nimble fingers and a lively fancy, very eloquent and sensible orations were gotten up and furnished the press, all going to show that the Red man never had taken the scalp of a white man, woman or child, and never would; that the white man was his brother, and that he wanted to know what the great father at Washington required him to do, and he could do it. These tawny warriors are natural diplomats, and hence are quite equal to the most adroit of the corps diplomatique of the old world, in lying with an air of truthfulness and sincerity. All this "pawpaw," and the earnestness with which it was treated by his brother peace commissioners, must have greatly amused that grim old Indian fighter, General Harney, who thoroughly comprehends the Indian character, and knows, by forty years' experience, the exact amount of reliance to be placed on their professions, if indeed they are not mere pretenders made with them—namely, none at all.

The Indian Peace Commissioners, however, did not take that view of the question, and rigidly adhered to the old William Penn style of treaty-making, and so the result of their summer's and autumn's labor was, on the side of the Indians, a full supply of provisions, arms, ammunition, clothing, blankets, camp equipage—in a word, everything savages require for use in peace or war; and on the side of the whites, a number of long-drawn documents, suitable garnished with blue ribbons and red sealing wax, and ornamented with the autograph "his mark" of any number of Red Clouds, Holes-in-Days and Men-Afraid-of-Their-Horses. The nation was thereupon congratulated that the Indian question, so far as the Indians of the plains were concerned, was now settled for all time in a most satisfactory manner.

But alas for human calculations! Hardly had the ink dried on the report of this deluded commission, before rumors of Indian outrages along the whole line of settlement, from Nebraska to Texas, were born upon the Western broadsides. At first discredited, they were soon confirmed, by official accounts of whole settlements being swept away and of the indiscriminate slaughter of men, women, and children, by the identical Indians whose peaceful disposition and eloquent orations had so charmed the Peace Commission a few months previously.

As the filth corollary of all these absurdities, we now learn that there is to be a winter campaign against these Indians, under the command of Gen. Sheridan. He will have under him about 3,000 cavalry, it is said, with a sufficient force of infantry to guard his depots of supply, &c. We doubt if a better commander for the expedition could have been selected. United to his ample energy and personal valor, Sheridan has a strong determination to go to the heart of the "land of the west," and to make it pay off. The audience applauded this speech with a hearty "Hooray!" and the toes of the DEMOCRAT. Hanged it well! stand any nonsense of that sort!

But the DEMOCRAT, however, has not yet given up the idea that it is a monopoly; that it absorbs all the newspaper enterprise and the entire business of Louisville, including nineteen or twenty of the adjoining Congressional districts; and that the other journals within the area of territory described are, as they say in the vulgar, simply nowhere. This may be merely an excuse, advanced by the editor, for his neighbors to make one of their innocent jokes; but in any case, we might light them if we could demonstrate, within the next few months, that it is one of their fatal mistakes, that it is not able to strike a decisive blow and reduce these gentle savages to complete submission, and secure the Kansas and Colorado frontiers against the depredations of these particular tribes for years to come.

But there are a great number of these offending tribes, scattered over the continent, whose territories are being encroached upon by the advancing white race, and upon whom the lesson Sheridan is giving to the Cheyennes and Arapahoes will have annually to be repeated, until the race becomes virtually extinct.

To render this annual lesson unnecessary, and to preserve a remnant of the aboriginal inhabitants of the land, a thorough reformation in the management of the Indian tribes should at once be initiated.

The first step, in this work of reformation, should be the removal of the conduct of Indian affairs from the Department of the Interior, to the Department of War, and thus take the whole subject beyond the domain of politics and politics, and in the sake of the patronage it gives to the Indian Department—in other words, the pounds, it is the means of distributing to the political adherents, the Secretary of the Interior and his subordinates had had influence enough heretofore to defeat this reform whenever it has been brought forward in Congress. The stealing of the Indian agents have and will ever continue to be a fruitful cause of dissatisfaction amongst the Indians. And no wonder, since it is a well-known fact that they seldom get the value of one-third of their annuities, the other two-thirds going to enrich the agent and his friends, the contractors.

Although army officers are not wholly to blame for this, the Indian tribes, the Indians themselves, are not blameless, and the whole country is to blame for the way in which the Indians are treated.

But really the life of the journalistic Siamese-Twins across the way is no more a concern of ours than the life

or death of the original Siamese-Twins, which now exist in company with a host of other Indians, en route to the frontiers of Texas, for the avowed purpose of stealing horses and taking scalps. They were armed with the identical guns furnished them by the order of their "great father at Washington." A few days later we were the military post of Fort Union, where we found a large body of cavalry preparing to take the field again against these same Indians.

This working at cross purposes, which necessarily takes place under the present system, is a material evil before there can be any material improvement in the conduct of our Indian affairs.

In the same article from which we have quoted, the grand consolidated monoplist says:

"We were not a little diverted the other day at a semi-serious, semi-jocular remark made by one of the men, and the nerve in a moment, call in the aid of HESTETTER'S STONACH BITTERS, if you would restore quiet, regular and harmony to the action of those important organs." A large proportion of the complaints to which the human family subject, originate in indigestion. For this distressing malady, and parent ofnumerable ailments as distressing as itself, the BITTERS are the only article proved by experience to be a universal and unfailing remedy. But although it was as a remedy for dyspepsy and biliousness that they first obtained popularity twenty years ago, it is now well understood, both by the public and the medical profession, that their curative properties take a wider range. In stomachic complaints, especially those of the liver, and even those of general and local debility, they are used salutary, and as a means of preparing the system to resist cold, cold, poisons elements in the water or air, in exposure, &c., so medical agent at present known to be fully justified with its powerful yet harmless tonic. The feble and sensitive, who can ill withstand the inclemencies of the season, will find in this BITTERS exactly the article they need to fortify and sustain.

KEEP YOUR HEAD COOL AND YOUR HAIR GREEN.

GARRET'S CHEMIST.

"I have just received a copy of the

OLE BULL.

"Respectfully announces one

GRAND CONCERT,

THURSDAY EVENING, DEC. 3, 1868,

Assisted by the following favorite artists:

MISS BARTON, D. S. Brown, Suprano.

MR. GUSTAVUS F. HALL, Baritone.

MR. EBERT LANSING, Pianist and Accompanist.

MR. SEASIDE, M. Seats be secured without charge at D. P. Failey's, 212 Main street, Louisville, Ky., on Monday, Dec. 3, at 8 o'clock.

T. R. TURNER, Business Manager.

WEISIGER HALL.

"The next step in the reform ought to be the abandonment of the present absurd recognition of wandering nomads and bands of naked root-diggers as independent nations, with whom treaties are to be made and ratified by the Senate of the United States, with the same formalities as are observed in the ratification of treaties with the great powers of Europe. This absurdity must be given up and the whole Indian population brought under the direct authority of the Government and trusted as individuals."

Now mark how plain a tale will put him down. On reading the above, the very same "one of our old merchants," who, it must be confessed, is a little addled, due to the use of profane words, broke like a quarter-horse for the office of the DEMOCRAT. He came in somewhat out of breath, but not out of money, for the first time in his life, to buy for one of his subscribers to the DEMOCRAT.

"Did you read that article about advertising in the Courier-Journal this morning?" he asked.

"Yes," said our business manager, "I glanced at it."

"Well," continued the "old merchant," passing a ten-dollar bill over the counter, "that article refers to me; but they misunderstood me over there. I didn't say they had a monopoly of the newspaper business in Louisville, for I know they haven't. I will do them the justice to say that their paper is a good one, but there is no use attempting to disguise the fact that yours is generally regarded as the best in the city."

"The only real and perverted D—Harmless, Reliable Instantaneous. No Discrepancy. No ridiculous profanity of the remarks, w—o, of course, strongly condemned; but, at the same time, we could not help thinking that truth, uttered even in profane language, is better than no truth at all."

Now, for the present, if not for all time to come, we have done with this great national question. In the words of the greatest of modern authors—"Let us have peace." But, at the same time, our neighbors must not put on kings and claim to be the only newspaper printed on this continent, merely because they have "come together" and are about to enter into a new newspaper business, lighted with the name of the Democrat.

And the Vigor of Youth restored in four weeks.

LAWYERS.—Young men who have been in business, or who have, with the aid of a few books, learned the law, and are anxious to practice it, will find in the newspaper business, a career open to them.

It is not what's the matter. The fact of the business is, both the Courier and the Journal, before they were born again—turning up, much to the surprise of the public, as twins—were in the habit—and it is not a censurable habit when kept within proper bounds—of saying a great deal about their illimitable circulation, and the inestimable amount of advertising patronage bestowed upon them, wholly ignoring the coming necessity of consolidation; and now, since they have united, and since, with the aid of their united strength, they have made it a dominant force in the community, it is demanded that they be kicked out of the community which they disgraced.

For these and other reasons not wholly unconnected with professional pride, we do not intend to pick a quarrel with the Courier-Journal about business matters, or newspaper printing, or advertising, or anything else under the sun. When we so far offend what is due to the readers of the DEMOCRAT, chas come again.

But in its ground and lofty editorial tumblings on the subject of advertising, journalistic enterprise, and the like, the Courier-Journal must not "trump onto" the toes of the DEMOCRAT. Hanged it well!

At one time a woman could hardly walk through the streets of San Francisco without having every one pause to look at her, and a old was so rare, that when a woman had taken her infant, when it began to cry, just as the orchestra complete, "Stop those fiddles and let the baby cry.

I haven't heard such a sound for ten years." The audience applauded this speech with a hearty "Hooray!" and the toes of the DEMOCRAT. Hanged it well!

But the DEMOCRAT, however, has not yet given up the idea that it is a monopoly; that it absorbs all the newspaper enterprise and the entire business of Louisville, including nineteen or twenty of the adjoining Congressional districts; and that the other journals within the area of territory described are, as they say in the vulgar, simply nowhere. This may be merely an excuse, advanced by the editor, for his neighbors to make one of their innocent jokes; but in any case, we might light them if we could demonstrate, within the next few months, that it is one of their fatal mistakes, that it is not able to strike a decisive blow and reduce these gentle savages to complete submission, and secure the Kansas and Colorado frontiers against the depredations of these particular tribes for years to come.

But there are a great number of these offending tribes, scattered over the continent, whose terriories are being encroached upon by the advancing white race, and upon whom the lesson Sheridan is giving to the Cheyennes and Arapahoes will have annually to be repeated, until the race becomes virtually extinct.

To render this annual lesson unnecessary,

and to preserve a remnant of the aboriginal inhabitants of the land, a thorough reformation in the management of the Indian tribes should at once be initiated.

The first step, in this work of reformation, should be the removal of the conduct of Indian affairs from the Department of the Interior, to the Department of War, and thus take the whole subject beyond the domain of politics and politics, and in the sake of the patronage it gives to the Indian Department—in other words, the pounds, it is the means of distributing presents to the Indian agents and the contractors.

But really the life of the journalistic Siamese-Twins across the way is no more a concern of ours than the life

or death of the original Siamese-Twins, which now exist in company with a host of other Indians, en route to the frontiers of Texas, for the avowed purpose of stealing horses and taking scalps. They were armed with the identical guns furnished them by the order of their "great father at Washington."

A few days later we were the military post of Fort Union, where we found a large body of cavalry preparing to take the field again against these same Indians.

CITY COUNCIL.

Meeting Last Night.

LOUISVILLE:

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1868.

THE CITY.

Chancery Court.

This tribunal did not hold its regular session yesterday, owing to the illness of Judge Cochran.

Farmers' Club.

This organization will meet at their room in Masonic Temple, at 1½ r. m., to-day.

Arson Case.

The case of Adam Hanss, who is charged with arson, was yesterday called in the City Court and continued until this morning.

False Pretenses.

Wm. Johnson, who was arrested for obtaining money from Ed. Hollbrook under false pretenses, was yesterday held in bond of $200 to answer.

A Good Report.

The Adams Express Company, of this city, is making large shipments of goods South every day, and they report the freight business good.

Cotton.

We have noticed a great many wagons loaded with cotton passing through this city during the present week en route to Jeffersonville for shipment East.

No Case.

Mr. Sales was yesterday arraigned before the City Court, on a peace warrant sworn out by Kate Scott, and held in bond of $100 for three months.

Grand Jury.

The Grand Jury of the City Court will meet at the Council Chamber this morning. All witnesses summoned will do well to be promptly on hand.

The Jail.

There had been no arrests registered at the jail up to a late hour last night. The City was very quiet yesterday, and the police made but few arrests.

BURGLARS.

Four houses entered in one night. Within a week past, the city has been infested by a daring gang of burglars, who are playing themselves to the very best of their knowledge and ability, but up to this time, we are happy to say, they have met with very indifferent success. Out of four houses entered night before last, they only succeeded in robbing one of them.

At about 4 o'clock yesterday morning they entered the residence of Mr. L. B. Webster, on Madison street, near Ninth, and carried off articles of jewelry and money, amounting in all to about $25. The first intimation of their presence was given by the bell which she had rung, within a few of the hours, to call the child, but receiving no reply, called each of her children by name. No response being made, she became alarmed and aroused Mr. Webster, who jumped up and reaching for his pants, discovered that they were gone. After lighting up the gas, he found the pants lying in the hall. They had been robbed of a pocket-book containing about $40 in greenbacks and $10 in gold and silver, together with some notes and papers which are of no value to any person but the owner.

A search was instituted for the thief, and it was found that he had made his escape through the back hall door, which was left open. He effected an entrance by cutting and breaking the slats out of the blinds of the back parlor window, after which the sash was removed. The thief took the precaution to light the gas in the back hall and leave the door open for a hasty retreat, if it became necessary. A bureau drawer was found open, but the thief made a water-haul in that room. Just above the bureau, however, he got a gold watch and chain which were hanging up. Also, a pocket-book, containing a small amount, from the pocket of Mrs. Webster's dress.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Webster, who were arrested with their possessions, were yesterday brought before the City Court and held in bond of $200 to be of good behavior for six months.

The Negro Burglars.

The two negroes, M. Talbot and Joe Baily, who were arrested with burglar's tools in their possession, were yesterday brought before the City Court and held in bond of $200 each to be of good behavior for six months.

Arrival of Hogs.

A number of droves of hogs arrived yesterday by the Nashville railroad, and were driven through the city to the different pens of our slaughtering houses. A great number of hogs are being received daily by our packers from the interior of the State.

Marshall Street.

It will be seen, by reference to our Council proceedings, that the committee on grievances have reported a petition, signed by a large number of persons, looking to a speedy abolition of the bawdyhouses on that thoroughfare. The matter was transferred to the grand jury of the City Court, by the Common Council.

Highway Robbery.

James McMan and Jacob Kaufman, were yesterday examined before the City Court, charged with the robbery of Philip Gunther and Mr. Atte, on the highway, a short time ago. They were held in heavy bonds to answer in the case. Jacob Bergman, charged with being an accessory before the fact, was held in bond of $100 to answer, for receiving the course of public justice.

Escape of the Indian Herb Doctor.

We learn that the sheriff of Meade county has received a dispatch from reliable parties, Brandenburg, stating that the Indian herb doctor, who journeyed from the mountains of Kentucky last Sunday night, was not drowned. He has been seen frequently since in Meade county, and it is feared that he will do some mischief before the officers succeed in arresting him again.

Good Citizen Gone.

We are deeply grieved to announce the death of Mr. E. Lyter Huffman, of the firm of Hughes, Huffman & Co., which sad event took place at about 6 o'clock last evening, at his residence on Chestnut street, between Second and Third. Mr. Huffman was a prominent merchant of our city, and has filled various offices of public trust. In his loss the community has good reason to mourn the demise of one of our very best and most dearly-beloved citizens.

Police Force.

The present police system of our city has proved itself the best that has ever existed in Louisville. It is only a matter of time with the thieves, and in proof of this, we have the proud satisfaction of recording the fact, that after the most diligent search, the "boys in gray" have succeeded in capturing two of the most noted highwaymen that have figured in these parts for a long time. Their names are Jacob Kaufman and Jas. McMan, the authors of two high-way robberies.

Incendiarism.

The large and beautiful residence of James Trabue, Esq., on the corner of Seventh and Chestnut streets, was discovered to be on fire at about 6 o'clock yesterday morning. The fire department was promptly on the spot, and soon extinguished the flames, which had originated in the dining room, and soon communicated to the pantry, destroying all of the furniture and fixtures of both rooms. We understand that Mr. Trabue had sold the house, and was making preparations to deliver it to the purchaser next week. The family were absent and there were no persons on the premises but negroes, who were employed by Mr. Trabue as servants. The fire is believed to be the work of an incendiary. It was very fortunate that this elegant building was not destroyed.

The Y. M. C. A. Festival.

The interest in this laudable undertaking has not abated one jot or tittle, and the rooms set apart for the use of the Association have again been filled last evening with hosts of fair ladies and numerous beauties, who drank, ate, and made merry to their heart's content. We have nowhere seen more tasteful arrangements or partaken of more tempting viands than those seen and tasted at the festival of the Young Men's Christian Association on the occasion in question. To-night the cakes, pyramids, &c., etc., not otherwise disposed of, will be sold at auction, and will also some valuable presents that have been made the Association during the progress of the festival. Let all attend who possess by man, and aid a good cause by frequent and spirited bidding.

CITY COUNCIL.

Meeting Last Night.

LOUISVILLE:

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1868.

THE CITY.

Chancery Court.

This tribunal did not hold its regular session yesterday, owing to the illness of Judge Cochran.

Farmers' Club.

This organization will meet at their room in Masonic Temple, at 1½ r. m., to-day.

Arson Case.

The case of Adam Hanss, who is charged with arson, was yesterday called in the City Court and continued until this morning.

False Pretenses.

Wm. Johnson, who was arrested for obtaining money from Ed. Hollbrook under false pretenses, was yesterday held in bond of $200 to answer.

A Good Report.

The Adams Express Company, of this city, is making large shipments of goods South every day, and they report the freight business good.

Cotton.

We have noticed a great many wagons loaded with cotton passing through this city during the present week en route to Jeffersonville for shipment East.

No Case.

Mr. Sales was yesterday arraigned before the City Court, on a peace warrant sworn out by Kate Scott, and held in bond of $100 for three months.

Grand Jury.

The Grand Jury of the City Court will meet at the Council Chamber this morning. All witnesses summoned will do well to be promptly on hand.

The Jail.

There had been no arrests registered at the jail up to a late hour last night. The City was very quiet yesterday, and the police made but few arrests.

CITY COUNCIL.

Meeting Last Night.

LOUISVILLE:

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1868.

THE CITY.

Chancery Court.

This tribunal did not hold its regular session yesterday, owing to the illness of Judge Cochran.

Farmers' Club.

This organization will meet at their room in Masonic Temple, at 1½ r. m., to-day.

Arson Case.

The case of Adam Hanss, who is charged with arson, was yesterday called in the City Court and continued until this morning.

False Pretenses.

Wm. Johnson, who was arrested for obtaining money from Ed. Hollbrook under false pretenses, was yesterday held in bond of $200 to answer.

A Good Report.

The Adams Express Company, of this city, is making large shipments of goods South every day, and they report the freight business good.

Cotton.

We have noticed a great many wagons loaded with cotton passing through this city during the present week en route to Jeffersonville for shipment East.

No Case.

Mr. Sales was yesterday arraigned before the City Court, on a peace warrant sworn out by Kate Scott, and held in bond of $100 for three months.

Grand Jury.

The Grand Jury of the City Court will meet at the Council Chamber this morning. All witnesses summoned will do well to be promptly on hand.

The Jail.

There had been no arrests registered at the jail up to a late hour last night. The City was very quiet yesterday, and the police made but few arrests.

CITY COUNCIL.

Meeting Last Night.

LOUISVILLE:

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1868.

THE CITY.

Chancery Court.

This tribunal did not hold its regular session yesterday, owing to the illness of Judge Cochran.

Farmers' Club.

This organization will meet at their room in Masonic Temple, at 1½ r. m., to-day.

Arson Case.

The case of Adam Hanss, who is charged with arson, was yesterday called in the City Court and continued until this morning.

False Pretenses.

Wm. Johnson, who was arrested for obtaining money from Ed. Hollbrook under false pretenses, was yesterday held in bond of $200 to answer.

A Good Report.

The Adams Express Company, of this city, is making large shipments of goods South every day, and they report the freight business good.

Cotton.

We have noticed a great many wagons loaded with cotton passing through this city during the present week en route to Jeffersonville for shipment East.

No Case.

Mr. Sales was yesterday arraigned before the City Court, on a peace warrant sworn out by Kate Scott, and held in bond of $100 for three months.

Grand Jury.

The Grand Jury of the City Court will meet at the Council Chamber this morning. All witnesses summoned will do well to be promptly on hand.

The Jail.

There had been no arrests registered at the jail up to a late hour last night. The City was very quiet yesterday, and the police made but few arrests.

CITY COUNCIL.

Meeting Last Night.

LOUISVILLE:

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1868.

THE CITY.

Chancery Court.

This tribunal did not hold its regular session yesterday, owing to the illness of Judge Cochran.

Farmers' Club.

This organization will meet at their room in Masonic Temple, at 1½ r. m., to-day.

Arson Case.

The case of Adam Hanss, who is charged with arson, was yesterday called in the City Court and continued until this morning.

False Pretenses.

Wm. Johnson, who was arrested for obtaining money from Ed. Hollbrook under false pretenses, was yesterday held in bond of $200 to answer.

A Good Report.

The Adams Express Company, of this city, is making large shipments of goods South every day, and they report the freight business good.

Cotton.

We have noticed a great many wagons loaded with cotton passing through this city during the present week en route to Jeffersonville for shipment East.

No Case.

Mr. Sales was yesterday arraigned before the City Court, on a peace warrant sworn out by Kate Scott, and held in bond of $100 for three months.

Grand Jury.

The Grand Jury of the City Court will meet at the Council Chamber this morning. All witnesses summoned will do well to be promptly on hand.

The Jail.

There had been no arrests registered at the jail up to a late hour last night. The City was very quiet yesterday, and the police made but few arrests.

CITY COUNCIL.

Meeting Last Night.

LOUISVILLE:

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1868.

THE CITY.

Chancery Court.

This tribunal did not hold its regular session yesterday, owing to the illness of Judge Cochran.

Farmers' Club.

This organization will meet at their room in Masonic Temple, at 1½ r. m., to-day.

Arson Case.

The case of Adam Hanss, who is charged with arson, was yesterday called in the City Court and continued until this morning.

False Pretenses.

Wm. Johnson, who was arrested for obtaining money from Ed. Hollbrook under false pretenses, was yesterday held in bond of $200 to answer.

A Good Report.

The Adams Express Company, of this city, is making large shipments of goods South every day, and they report the freight business good.

Cotton.

We have noticed a great many wagons loaded with cotton passing through this city during the present week en route to Jeffersonville for shipment East.

No Case.

LOUISVILLE:

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1868.

News by the Mails.

THE STATE.

—Protracted meetings throughout the State.

—Owensboro has 25,000 gallons of bonded whisky.

—The Louisville and Southern didn't observe Thanksgiving day much.

—Seven cents is the ruling price for hogs in the Danville market.

—The total valuation of property in Mason county is estimated at $8,561,423.

—The Maysville Eagle thinks more hanging should follow so much murder.

—Maysville is gradually becoming excited over her approaching municipal election.

—Cave City is getting up a subscription fund to build a Catholic church at that place.

—The Owensboro Monitor is surprised that somebody doesn't establish a tobacco confederacy in that city.

—Two valiant hunters of Shelby county, killed 100 rabbits one day last week; and it wasn't a good day for rabbits either.

—Capt. Thos. W. Wheatley has con-

menced to survey the turnpike route from Brooksville to Rock Spring, in Bracken county.

—The population of the Second Congressional district is, whites, 147,590; blacks 12,000. The number of firms or persons engaged in business, 2,118.

—The various stemmers of Owensboro are putting their houses in order preparatory to receiving the tobacco products of the planters, which is fine and fair yield.

—Another soldier blew his brains out in Danville a few days ago. He had been acting in orderly for Maj. McLaughlin, and had been sent to the hospital for his property belonging to that officer.

—The Maysville Bulletin is responsible for the assertion that "an old lady in that city, who was mindful of the old adage that 'it takes a bushel of corn to fatten a hog,' actually cut off the tail of her hog as a matter of economy."

—The Owensboro Monitor says: We are gratified to learn that the friends of the Owensboro and Russellville railroad, Sacramento precinct, will soon have $100,000 secured as their subscription, nearly that amount having already been raised.

—The Glasgow Times, of recent date, says: "Our special oil reporter gives us a glowing account of the new oil well put down" last week by Messrs. Chess & Wells, about four and a half miles from the city of Evansville, Indiana. It is flowing well and yields about thirty barrels per barrel's day, the finest quality of oil. This is the second flowing well that these gentlemen own on that creek, the first of which has steadily continued to flow for several years.

—The Shelly Sentinel, of the 25th inst., says: "One of the most remarkable instances of eloquence of which we have ever heard, occurred at Harrisonville in this country, on Friday last. Harrison J. Whitehouse left an interesting wife and six children, and closed with a woman, the son, the mother of his wife, now an old man, tan and with his hair of his brother's horses. They started in the direction of Shellyville, and as he inquired the route to Indianapolis a few days previously, it is supposed the guilty couple went to that place."

THE SOUTH.

—Jeter Phillips, the condemned, re-surfaced from prison.

—Wolves are becoming numerous and troublesome in the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia.

—The Mississippi carpet-baggers are in convention at Jackson. Look out for them.

—Measures are afoot for again issuing the Charleston Mercury, and on a much more substantial basis than heretofore.

—Among the thirty-seven prisoners confined in the jail house, N. C., there is not one white man born on Southern soil.

—It is reported in Atlanta that the negroes, who have been killed, have been killed by Confederates as inferior negroes. Further particulars are expected.

—In Florida, there is still a set of carpet-bags, negro and white style themselves. The United States Figure of the Republican Party of Florida.

—Work on the Columbia and Augusta railroad has been stopped at Gravettville, Ga., in consequence of the junction with the Atlantic and Western railroad, and the South Carolina Railroad Company.

—The Newbern (North Carolina) Journal and Courier has shown a sweet potato, grown in Craven county, measuring upwards of two feet in length and weighing over 100 pounds.

—Miss William W. Butts, of Buena Vista, came to his death very suddenly a few days ago. He was a young man, 20, and was on a camp hunt, about twenty miles west of Albany, Ga., with a party of friends, and was taken suddenly and died ten days ago.

—Hon. William M. Butts, of Buena Vista, came to his death very suddenly a few days ago. He was a young man, 20, and was on a camp hunt, about twenty miles west of Albany, Ga., with a party of friends, and was taken suddenly and died ten days ago.

—A difficulty occurred on Monday morning near Summit, Miss., between John H. Mills and a Mr. Hammann, in which the latter, a negro, was severely beaten and his clothes torn.

—Arkansas is full of game, especially grain from every persimmon tree, coon traps, big logs, panthers shriek in the dark, and the biggest owl hoot in the darkest, loudest woods around pig-pens, patrollers fly in brigades, the squirrels are gathering all the last fruits and denotations of the wood-pecker reverberate from every hollow tree.

—The Marion (Va.) Statesman, last Friday, reported that Mr. J. R. Jackson and his brother Sidney, a lad of fifteen, were returning from the village to which they were shot and mortally wounded. They were riding in a buggy, and were shot in the back within a short distance from Marion. Mr. J. R. Jackson died on Saturday morning, and his young brother was lingering in great agony at late reports.

THE NORTH.

—The best illustrated paper out—a bank-note.

—Oliver Dyer—John Allen's hacker has been baptized.

—The "Illustrated" excitement in France is gradually dying out.

—San Francisco is trying to invent earthquake-proof houses.

—Dr. W. Field has bought an estate in Washington for $50,000.

—Chicago stands on billions a year on billiards—a curious fact.

—New York is not doing well on marriages. Only 17 last week.

—It is wished that Evans may go to the funeral in Marion's place.

—Brigham Young, upon the use of opera-glasses in his theater.

—Jenkins says Mrs. Colfax is just thirty-two and weighs 140 pounds.

—Some Delaware citizens have got their backs pained while going to the York cigar manufacturers will end in smoke.

—It is believed the St. Louis husband wants a divorce because his wife throws the children at his head.

—A Chicago lockup his wife up when she wanted to go to church, and now she seeks a divorce.

—Forney has tried his hand at an "interview," but succeeds in telling only what he said himself.

—New York burglars find their own safe, and the fire-escape placed in tenement houses.

—A burglar at Grand Central, Friday evening, Nov. 27.

—With this evening's report we close our review of the market, and can state that business, with the intermission of Thanksgiving day, has been fair in all departments, active in hogs and porkpacking, and quite buoyant for cotton. The supply of the latter staple has been good, though the market is still as previous weeks, with market stock on hand of 1,200 hogs. This, however, does not apply to the actual stock in dealers' hands for sale, as their stock is very small. It includes the stock at depot and at the compress awaiting shipment.

—The improvement in the cotton market has inspired more tone to the wholesale dry goods and jobbing market, and dealers are somewhat stiffer, though not advancing their rates. In fact, early in the week they had established a slight decline in brown drills, paper cambrics, some styles of bleached goods, and a few round lots of standards at a small decline, though favorite brands and prints, and delaines are gradually advancing. Some styles of ladies' stockings, also, are in active request at present. The stocks of seasonal goods are ample.

—For drugs there has been a fair trade this week, the enhancement of the gold premiums having the tendency to slightly enhance rates on the imported articles. The stocks on hand are reported fair and increasing.

—In the hog slaughtering and porkpacking business there has been an active trade, with very large receipts of hogs, and the slaughter of 27,283 hogs during the week. All the packers are busy, and well prepared to do a very active trade this season, and all anticipate an increase in the value of the past two years. The particularities of the slaughter and prices are subjoined, by which it will be seen that Louisville this season continues to pay higher prices for hogs than any other packing point.

—At a recent business meeting of a Boston packing house, the men present were invited to vote on all the questions before the society.

—During the recent Erie contest, a lot of meat was sold at $1.30 per pound, and the market did not exceed three quarters of a million, certifying a check for eight millions.

—Crown's quest law says: "An express, that Wall Street stock jobbers buy more lunatics than any other class of people in the country."

—The various stemmers of the Second Congressional district is, whites, 147,590; blacks 12,000. The number of firms or persons engaged in business, 2,118.

—The various stemmers of Owensboro are putting their houses in order preparatory to receiving the tobacco products of the planters, which is fine and fair yield.

—Another soldier blew his brains out in Danville a few days ago. He had been acting in orderly for Maj. McLaughlin, and had been sent to the hospital for his property belonging to that officer.

—The Maysville Bulletin is responsible for the assertion that "an old lady in that city, who was mindful of the old adage that 'it takes a bushel of corn to fatten a hog,' actually cut off the tail of her hog as a matter of economy."

—The Owensboro Monitor says: We are gratified to learn that the friends of the Owensboro and Russellville railroad, Sacramento precinct, will soon have $100,000 secured as their subscription, nearly that amount having already been raised.

—The Glasgow Times, of recent date, says: "Our special oil reporter gives us a glowing account of the new oil well put down" last week by Messrs. Chess & Wells, about four and a half miles from the city of Evansville, Indiana. It is flowing well and yields about thirty barrels per barrel's day, the finest quality of oil. This is the second flowing well that these gentlemen own on that creek, the first of which has steadily continued to flow for several years.

—The New York Herald quotes as a means of raising the price of Erie, to make Commodore Vanderbilt president.

—The indressed member of the Tribune, who "hides" the establishment in a magazine article, has got his discharge.

—Miss Anna Painter Cunningham has been re-elected at Washington, President of the Ladies Mount Vernon Association.

—The Owensboro Monitor is surprised that somebody doesn't establish a tobacco confederacy in that city.

—Two valiant hunters of Shelby county, killed 100 rabbits one day last week; and it wasn't a good day for rabbits either.

—Capt. Thos. W. Wheatley has con-

menced to survey the turnpike route from Brooksville to Rock Spring, in Bracken county.

—The population of the Second Congressional district is, whites, 147,590; blacks 12,000. The number of firms or persons engaged in business, 2,118.

—The various stemmers of Owensboro are putting their houses in order preparatory to receiving the tobacco products of the planters, which is fine and fair yield.

—Another soldier blew his brains out in Danville a few days ago. He had been acting in orderly for Maj. McLaughlin, and had been sent to the hospital for his property belonging to that officer.

—The Maysville Bulletin is responsible for the assertion that "an old lady in that city, who was mindful of the old adage that 'it takes a bushel of corn to fatten a hog,' actually cut off the tail of her hog as a matter of economy."

—The Owensboro Monitor says: We are gratified to learn that the friends of the Owensboro and Russellville railroad, Sacramento precinct, will soon have $100,000 secured as their subscription, nearly that amount having already been raised.

—The Glasgow Times, of recent date, says: "Our special oil reporter gives us a glowing account of the new oil well put down" last week by Messrs. Chess & Wells, about four and a half miles from the city of Evansville, Indiana. It is flowing well and yields about thirty barrels per barrel's day, the finest quality of oil. This is the second flowing well that these gentlemen own on that creek, the first of which has steadily continued to flow for several years.

—The New York Herald quotes as a means of raising the price of Erie, to make Commodore Vanderbilt president.

—The indressed member of the Tribune, who "hides" the establishment in a magazine article, has got his discharge.

—Miss Anna Painter Cunningham has been re-elected at Washington, President of the Ladies Mount Vernon Association.

—The Glasgow Times, of recent date, says: "Our special oil reporter gives us a glowing account of the new oil well put down" last week by Messrs. Chess & Wells, about four and a half miles from the city of Evansville, Indiana. It is flowing well and yields about thirty barrels per barrel's day, the finest quality of oil. This is the second flowing well that these gentlemen own on that creek, the first of which has steadily continued to flow for several years.

—The New York Herald quotes as a means of raising the price of Erie, to make Commodore Vanderbilt president.

—The indressed member of the Tribune, who "hides" the establishment in a magazine article, has got his discharge.

—Miss Anna Painter Cunningham has been re-elected at Washington, President of the Ladies Mount Vernon Association.

—The Glasgow Times, of recent date, says: "Our special oil reporter gives us a glowing account of the new oil well put down" last week by Messrs. Chess & Wells, about four and a half miles from the city of Evansville, Indiana. It is flowing well and yields about thirty barrels per barrel's day, the finest quality of oil. This is the second flowing well that these gentlemen own on that creek, the first of which has steadily continued to flow for several years.

—The New York Herald quotes as a means of raising the price of Erie, to make Commodore Vanderbilt president.

—The indressed member of the Tribune, who "hides" the establishment in a magazine article, has got his discharge.

—Miss Anna Painter Cunningham has been re-elected at Washington, President of the Ladies Mount Vernon Association.

—The Glasgow Times, of recent date, says: "Our special oil reporter gives us a glowing account of the new oil well put down" last week by Messrs. Chess & Wells, about four and a half miles from the city of Evansville, Indiana. It is flowing well and yields about thirty barrels per barrel's day, the finest quality of oil. This is the second flowing well that these gentlemen own on that creek, the first of which has steadily continued to flow for several years.

—The New York Herald quotes as a means of raising the price of Erie, to make Commodore Vanderbilt president.

—The indressed member of the Tribune, who "hides" the establishment in a magazine article, has got his discharge.

—Miss Anna Painter Cunningham has been re-elected at Washington, President of the Ladies Mount Vernon Association.

—The Glasgow Times, of recent date, says: "Our special oil reporter gives us a glowing account of the new oil well put down" last week by Messrs. Chess & Wells, about four and a half miles from the city of Evansville, Indiana. It is flowing well and yields about thirty barrels per barrel's day, the finest quality of oil. This is the second flowing well that these gentlemen own on that creek, the first of which has steadily continued to flow for several years.

—The New York Herald quotes as a means of raising the price of Erie, to make Commodore Vanderbilt president.

—The indressed member of the Tribune, who "hides" the establishment in a magazine article, has got his discharge.

—Miss Anna Painter Cunningham has been re-elected at Washington, President of the Ladies Mount Vernon Association.

—The Glasgow Times, of recent date, says: "Our special oil reporter gives us a glowing account of the new oil well put down" last week by Messrs. Chess & Wells, about four and a half miles from the city of Evansville, Indiana. It is flowing well and yields about thirty barrels per barrel's day, the finest quality of oil. This is the second flowing well that these gentlemen own on that creek, the first of which has steadily continued to flow for several years.

—The New York Herald quotes as a means of raising the price of Erie, to make Commodore Vanderbilt president.

—The indressed member of the Tribune, who "hides" the establishment in a magazine article, has got his discharge.

—Miss Anna Painter Cunningham has been re-elected at Washington, President of the Ladies Mount Vernon Association.

—The Glasgow Times, of recent date, says: "Our special oil reporter gives us a glowing account of the new oil well put down" last week by Messrs. Chess & Wells, about four and a half miles from the city of Evansville, Indiana. It is flowing well and yields about thirty barrels per barrel's day, the finest quality of oil. This is the second flowing well that these gentlemen own on that creek, the first of which has steadily continued to flow for several years.

—The New York Herald quotes as a means of raising the price of Erie, to make Commodore Vanderbilt president.

—The indressed member of the Tribune, who "hides" the establishment in a magazine article, has got his discharge.

—Miss Anna Painter Cunningham has been re-elected at Washington, President of the Ladies Mount Vernon Association.

—The Glasgow Times, of recent date, says: "Our special oil reporter gives us a glowing account of the new oil well put down" last week by Messrs. Chess & Wells, about four and a half miles from the city of Evansville, Indiana. It is flowing well and yields about thirty barrels per barrel's day, the finest quality of oil. This is the second flowing well that these gentlemen own on that creek, the first of which has steadily continued to flow for several years.

—The New York Herald quotes as a means of raising the price of Erie, to make Commodore Vanderbilt president.

—The indressed member of the Tribune, who "hides" the establishment in a magazine article, has got his discharge.

—Miss Anna Painter Cunningham has been re-elected at Washington, President of the Ladies Mount Vernon Association.

—The Glasgow Times, of recent date, says: "Our special oil reporter gives us a glowing account of the new oil well put down" last week by Messrs. Chess & Wells, about four and a half miles from the city of Evansville, Indiana. It is flowing well and yields about thirty barrels per barrel's day, the finest quality of oil. This is the second flowing well that these gentlemen own on that creek, the first of which has steadily continued to flow for several years.

—The New York Herald quotes as a means of raising the price of Erie, to make Commodore Vanderbilt president.

—The indressed member of the Tribune, who "hides" the establishment in a magazine article, has got his discharge.

—Miss Anna Painter Cunningham has been re-elected at Washington, President of the Ladies Mount Vernon Association.

—The Glasgow Times, of recent date, says: "Our special oil reporter gives us a glowing account of the new oil well put down" last week by Messrs. Chess & Wells, about four and a half miles from the city of Evansville, Indiana. It is flowing well and yields about thirty barrels per barrel's day, the finest quality of oil. This is the second flowing well that these gentlemen own on that creek, the first of which has steadily continued to flow for several years.

—The New York Herald quotes as a means of raising the price of Erie, to make Commodore Vanderbilt president.